Provence, a land of gentle contrasts

The rolling hills and green valleys of the Alpilles, the perfumed pine forests, the flat plains of the Camargue, the warm inviting colours of Roussillon... Provence, a land which evokes the harmony between spectacular and contrasted landscapes.

The soft murmur of village fountains, the song of the cicadas perched in the trees, who echo the gentle harmony of life in Provence.

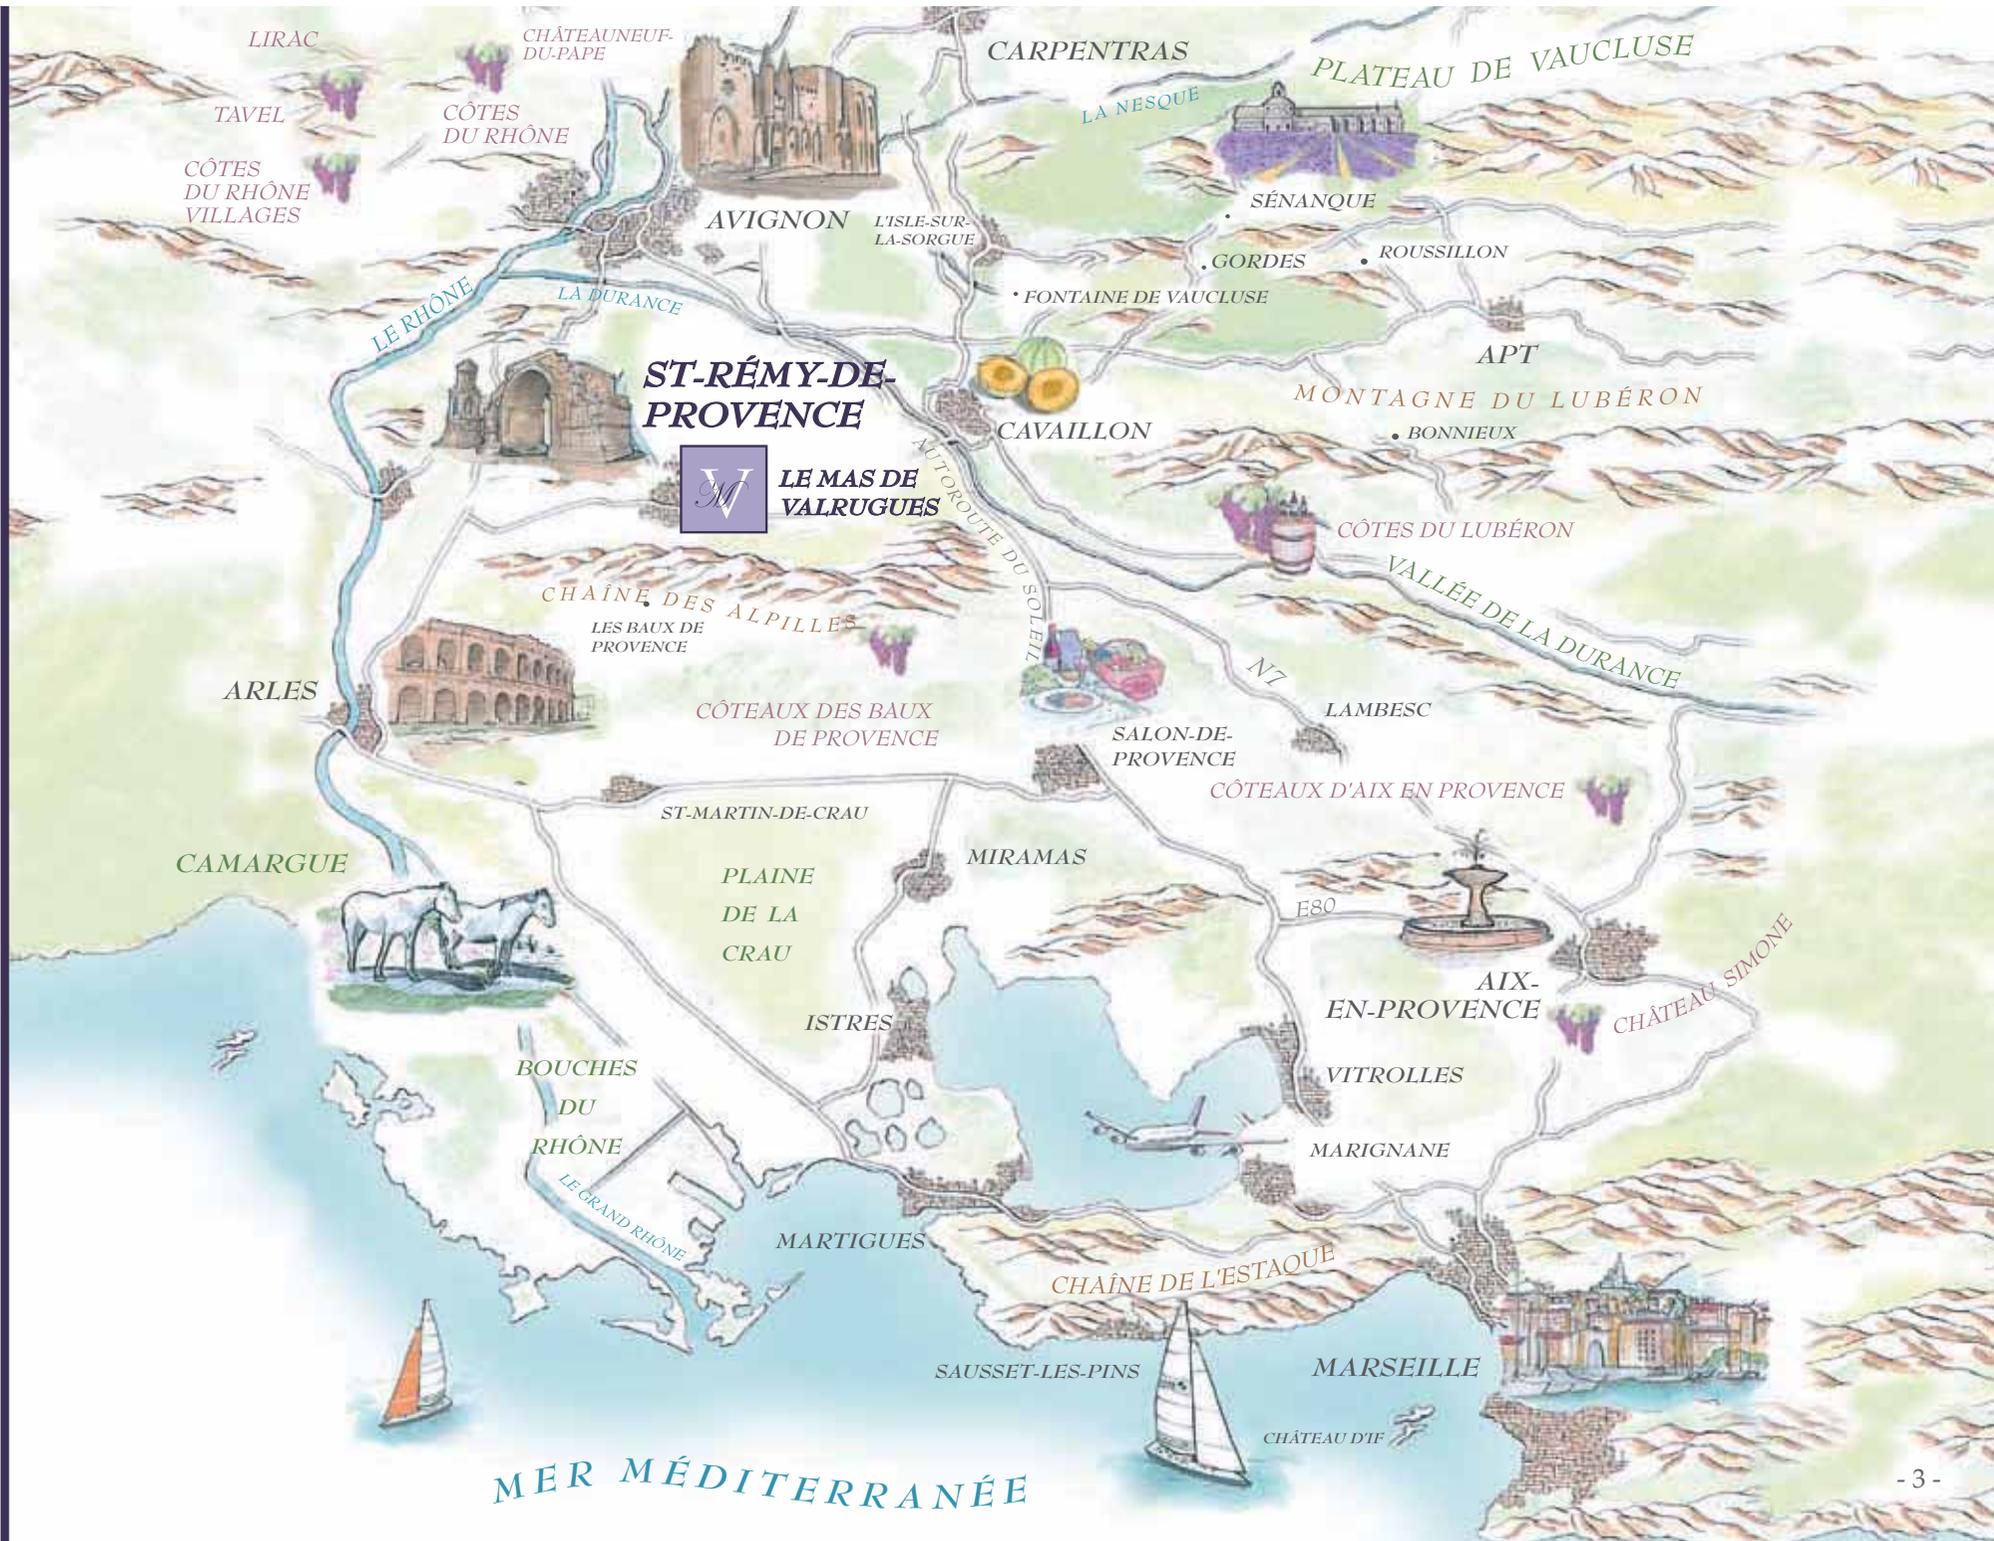

While strolling through the local market you will discover an array of local products, revealing Provence's exceptional knowledge of the arts and a passionate love for food.

Saint-Rémy-de-Provence "capital of the art of living"

Saint-Rémy-de-Provence provides a gentle rhythm to life. As you wander the streets you will discover everything from elegant art galleries, to a quaint shaded restaurant terrace.

In the beautifully coloured market stalls you will discover an array of aromatic herbs, olive oils, truffles, sun-ripened fruit... a festival of tastes impossible to pass by.

While exploring the surrounding countryside you will discover picturesque scenes. The stunning poppy fields, the charming olive tree groves and the intense surrounding colours have been of great inspiration to many artists, including Vincent Van Gogh during the period in which he adopted Saint-Rémy-de-Provence as his home.

Saint-Rémy-de-Provence is the ideal base from which to explore the Alpilles. From the beginner to the enthusiast trekker or by enjoying the sites while on horseback, everyone will be able to appreciate the diversity of the landscape. There exists many tours on offer, enabling you to admire the beautiful diversity of the Alpilles, Lubéron and the Camargue.
